to the TATA Memorial Hospital, Parel

tkIS India donated 48 sets of Neuro Vascular Catheters to the Department of Oncology, TATA Memorial Hospital, Parel Mumbai as a part its CSR initiatives for the year 2016-2017. The donation follows the 39 sets of catheters that the company had donated to the hospital in the year 2014-2015, which were used for the treatment of 13 patients suffering from Retinoblastoma, an eye cancer. The catheters are used for patients coming from the underprivileged sections of society who are not in a position to afford the expensive treatment associated with eye cancer.

The handover ceremony for this year's donation was held on July 25, 2017 at the hospital. Dr. Suyash Kulkarni, Professor & Head, Division of Interventional Radiology, Tata Memorial Hospital welcomed the dignitaries and audience to the ceremony.

‘Your hospital is doing a great service to society, by treating patients from the underprivileged sections society’, said Mr. PD Samudra, CEO and MD, tkIS India in his speech. He went on to appreciate the work done by Rotary Club of Mumbai Mahim and thanked them for helping identify such projects. ‘We are honored to fulfil them as a part of our CSR responsibility,’ he said.

Dr. Anil D’Cruz, Director, Tata Memorial Hospital thanked tkIS India, Rotary Club of Mumbai Mahim and others involved with the donation. He did mentioned that the TATA Memorial Hospital being a government hospital and governed by Atomic Energy Research Board, receives major equipment required for the surgeries from the government, but this support does not normally cover items like catheters. Being expensive they are of great help when received as a donation from the corporate sector. Going further, he appraised the audience about the holistic approach of the hospital’s pediatric department which also actively pursues counseling and training of the patients who undergo treatment for Retinoblastoma at the hospital.
